torrossa

library

EIO is an exclusive collection of Italian research texts in electronic format from a number of prestigious Italian publishers. All titles have been selected by our experienced Approval specialists for their quality and relevance to academic libraries.

An essential resource containing multidisciplinary content from over 170 Italian academic publishers with particular focus on the Humanities and Social Sciences.

Compiled with care

to ensure a quality collection of scholarly value, including produced both by well-known publishing houses and by highly specialised but lesser-known publishers.

Continuous updates

are made to the collection as relevant new content is made available. Subscribers are notified of additions to the catalogue at regular intervals during the year.

New contributors

are also added to the collection on a regular basis, as our dedicated publisher relations team works to bring on board an increasing number and range of publishers.

You choose

the content you prefer, according to your institution's interests and budget. Our selectors propose standard collections based on format (books/journals), publisher and discipline, and they are happy to compile custom collections on request.

Personalise your catalogue

even further by selecting and purchasing single titles directly from our website, using exactly the same online ordering tools and workflows as for print titles.

Discover what's on offer

through regular New Title Information updates, tailored to reflect your interests and fully integrated with our online bibliographic database and ordering tools.
